

Play with a partner. Each player chooses a fraction to place their counter on. Take turns to move your counter to another fraction along the lines only. Add the new fraction to your total. The first player to make exactly three is the winner. Go over three and you lose the game.